

Name _____

The Dance of Probability: Independent and Dependent Events

Open-Ended Response Questions

1. Can you think of another analogy to explain independent and dependent events?
2. How might understanding independent and dependent events be useful in everyday life?
3. Can you create a scenario involving independent events and explain why they are independent?
4. Think of a situation where knowing about dependent events could help you make better decisions. What might that situation be?

