

Name _____

The Deal with the Devil's Strings

Short Answer Key

1. Max received unparalleled musical talent, fame, and success in exchange for his soul.
2. Max's success affected his personal life by causing him to grow distant from his loved ones and lose touch with his true self, leaving him with a haunting emptiness inside.
3. Max encountered the mysterious figure who offered him the Faustian bargain in an eerie shop called "The Devil's Strings."
4. When Max begged for a chance to undo the deal, the mysterious figure agreed to a new deal where Max's fame and success would vanish, but his soul would be spared.
5. At the end of the story, Max felt a sense of solace and humility about his talent and success, appreciating his gift of music without the burden of the Faustian bargain.

