

Name _____

Penguin Diversity: Exploring the Many Species of These Fascinating Birds

Short Answer Key

1. There are 18 recognized species of penguins.
2. Little blue penguins are found in Australia and New Zealand.
3. Emperor penguins have vibrant yellow patches on their necks and chests.
4. All penguin species face threats such as climate change, overfishing, and pollution.
5. Conservation is important for protecting penguin species to ensure their survival and prevent population declines.

