The Faux-Doctor Dilemma

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Max arrived at the hospital wearing a borrowed lab coat and a stethoscope around his neck. He looked disheveled and covered in jello.
2. Max's lack of medical knowledge and experience led to comedic situations, such as fumbling with surgical instruments and knocking over a tray of jello cups.
3. Answers may vary, but most students might agree that Max's decision was not a good idea because pretending to be a doctor can lead to serious consequences and is dishonest.
4. Max's exaggerated stories and pretending to be a doctor initially impressed Emily but later made her laugh, leading to a deeper connection between them.
