

Name _____

The Rabbit's Role in the Ecosystem

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is one way rabbits help plants grow?
 - A) By eating their roots
 - B) By spreading seeds through their droppings
 - C) By covering them with dirt
 - D) By keeping insects away

2. Why are rabbits important in the food chain?
 - A) They provide food for many animals
 - B) They eat predators
 - C) They protect other animals
 - D) They don't interact with the food chain

3. How do rabbits improve soil health?
 - A) By eating weeds
 - B) By digging burrows that allow air and water to reach roots
 - C) By spreading fertilizer
 - D) By protecting plants from predators

4. What can happen if there are too many rabbits in one area?
 - A) They help all plants grow evenly
 - B) They improve soil health
 - C) They can overeat plants and damage crops
 - D) They protect other animals

5. How do rabbits help farmers in some areas?
 - A) By protecting crops from insects
 - B) By spreading fertilizer
 - C) By digging tunnels for plants to grow
 - D) By clearing weeds naturally

