

Name _____

Exploring Education in Indonesia

Short Answer Key

1. Early Childhood Education (PAUD), Primary Education (SD), Junior High School (SMP), Senior High School (SMA), and Higher Education (universities, polytechnics, and vocational schools).
2. Subjects typically included in the curriculum for Indonesian students are mathematics, science, social studies, languages (including Bahasa Indonesia and English), physical education, and arts.
3. Indonesia addresses the challenge of cultural and language diversity by incorporating local culture and values into school curricula and encouraging the learning of local languages and dialects.
4. Bahasa Indonesia serves as the official language of instruction to promote unity and communication among the diverse population of Indonesia.
5. The Indonesian government supports efforts to improve the quality of education through policies, investments in infrastructure, teacher training programs, and initiatives aimed at reducing educational disparities.

