

Name _____

Remorseful Reflections: An Elegy for Regret

Short Answer Key

1. The poem describes regret as a weight upon the soul that lingers, impacting the protagonist emotionally.
2. The protagonist wishes they could rewrite the script of their past and make different choices.
3. The poem conveys the idea that forgiveness and righting one's wrongs can lead to healing by suggesting that the protagonist can find release and build anew through these actions.
4. The poem conveys the message that regrets are a natural part of life, but finding peace and healing despite them is essential for personal growth and well-being.
5. Responses vary depending on opinion.

