

Name _____

The Empathy Experiment

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What was Dr. Rebecca Turner's goal in conducting the experiment?
 - A) To prove that empathy cannot be taught
 - B) To explore whether empathy can be taught
 - C) To manipulate people's emotions
 - D) To discourage the use of electronic devices

2. How did Dr. Turner divide the volunteers in her experiment?
 - A) By age
 - B) By gender
 - C) Into two groups based on different empathy-building methods
 - D) Into two groups based on their favorite colors

3. What were the results of the experiment with the electronic devices?
 - A) The electronic devices had no effect on empathy levels.
 - B) The group exposed to electronic devices showed significant improvements in empathy.
 - C) The traditional empathy-building group showed greater improvement.
 - D) Both groups showed no improvement in empathy.

4. What ethical concerns arose during the experiment?
 - A) Concerns about the participants' physical safety
 - B) Concerns about the participants' lack of interest
 - C) Concerns about manipulating emotions and the long-term effects
 - D) Concerns about the experiment's cost

5. How did Dr. Turner respond to the ethical concerns raised by the volunteers?
 - A) She ignored their concerns and continued with the experiment.
 - B) She decided to expand the use of electronic devices.
 - C) She ended the electronic stimulation portion of the experiment.
 - D) She reduced the number of volunteers in the experiment.

