Equal Irony

Short Answer Key

1. The animals wanted to create a farm where everyone was treated equally and fairly, without human cruelty.
2. The pigs added words to the commandments and used confusing explanations to make the animals think nothing had changed.
3. The pigs acted just like the humans they had overthrown, showing that their promise of equality was false.
4. The animals trusted the pigs because they seemed smart and used fear to make the animals believe they had no other choice.
5. The pigs changed equality by giving themselves special privileges and making rules that only benefited them.
