

Name _____

Fables Teach

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is the main lesson of The Little Red Hen?
 - a) Sharing is the most important thing.
 - b) Hard work leads to rewards.
 - c) Being fast is more important than being careful.
 - d) Making bread is fun.

2. How is The Little Red Hen similar to The Ant and the Grasshopper?
 - a) Both show that hard work leads to rewards.
 - b) Both teach that being lazy is fun.
 - c) Both have a race between animals.
 - d) Both stories take place in winter.

3. What is different about The Tortoise and the Hare compared to The Little Red Hen?
 - a) The Tortoise shares his victory with the Hare.
 - b) The Tortoise does not work hard like the Hen.
 - c) The Tortoise wins because he keeps trying, while the Hen teaches a lesson about fairness.
 - d) The Hare helps the Tortoise win the race.

4. What does The Little Red Hen do that the other fable characters do not?
 - a) She teaches a lesson to the other animals by refusing to share.
 - b) She takes a nap and loses a race.
 - c) She plays instead of working.
 - d) She shares her food even though no one helped her.

5. Why do fables remain popular?
 - a) They are fun to read but have no lesson.
 - b) They are mostly about making bread.
 - c) They are all about animals.
 - d) They teach important moral lessons that are easy to remember.

