Fairness Matters

Short Answer Key

1. The Hen asks for help because each step requires effort, and she hopes her friends will contribute.
2. The Hen's decision is fair because she did all the work, so she earned the reward.
3. If the animals had helped, they would have shared in both the work and the bread.
4. The animals feel regretful and realize that they missed out because they did not help.
5. Answers may vary, but students should explain their reasoning, considering fairness and responsibility.
