Fashion Freedom: A Sonnet on Self-Expression

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Answers will vary, but students may share personal experiences of choosing clothing that reflects their interests, values, or cultural background, and how this allowed them to express themselves.
2. "A canvas blank, we paint with threads and flair" suggests that fashion provides a creative outlet where individuals can use clothing as a canvas to showcase their unique style and personality.
3. The poem emphasizes that fashion is more than just clothes on our frame because it highlights the deeper meaning and personal expression that clothing choices can convey.
4. In your own words, explain why the poem suggests that fashion plays a vital part in self-expression. Fashion allows individuals to communicate their identity, preferences, and personality to the world, giving them a platform to express who they are and what they stand for. It serves as a form of creative self-expression that goes beyond mere clothing, shaping how we present ourselves to society and connect with others.
