

Name _____

The Tooth Fairy's First Mission

In a tiny, hidden village deep within the Enchanted Forest, a young tooth fairy named Tilly was about to embark on her very first tooth-collecting mission.

She had trained for this day for months, and her heart was filled with excitement and a touch of nervousness.

The Tooth Fairy Academy had prepared her well, teaching her how to collect teeth from sleeping children and leave a shiny coin or a special surprise in return. Tilly's wings fluttered as she imagined the joy on the child's face when they found her gift under their pillow.

Her mentor, Glitterwing, a wise and experienced tooth fairy, had given Tilly her mission instructions. Tonight, Tilly was to visit a young girl named Sophie, who had just lost her first tooth. Tilly had to be careful not to wake Sophie as she collected the tooth and left a tiny, glittering gift.

As the moon rose high in the sky, Tilly set off on her journey. She flew through the forest, guided by the soft glow of fireflies and the shimmering stars. Soon, she arrived at Sophie's home and carefully slipped into the room.

Tilly spotted Sophie's lost tooth resting beneath the pillow. She gently picked it up, leaving behind a small, sparkling trinket in its place. As she flew away, her heart swelled with happiness, knowing she had completed her first mission successfully.

Over time, Tilly continued to collect teeth and make children smile with her surprises. Each mission brought new adventures, and Tilly became a beloved tooth fairy in the Enchanted Forest.