

Name _____

The Fantastic Flying Carpet

Once upon a time in the bustling bazaar of Aladdinville, there lived a young boy named Ahmed. Ahmed was an adventurous spirit who had always dreamt of traveling to far-off lands. Little did he know that his dreams were about to take flight in the most unexpected way.

One sunny morning, while Ahmed was exploring the bazaar's many stalls, he stumbled upon a peculiar rug. It was vibrant and covered in intricate patterns, with tassels that seemed to shimmer in the sunlight. The rug was unlike any he had ever seen, and a friendly merchant named Ali greeted him.

"Ah, young traveler," Ali said with a twinkle in his eye. "This is not just any rug; it's the Fantastic Flying Carpet! It can take you anywhere you desire."

Ahmed couldn't believe his ears. A flying carpet? It sounded too good to be true. But Ali assured him it was real and offered Ahmed a special deal. With a sense of excitement, Ahmed purchased the Fantastic Flying Carpet.

As soon as Ahmed unfurled the carpet at home, it sprang to life with a flutter of its tassels. It soared into the air, lifting Ahmed off his feet. He held on tightly as the carpet whisked him through the open window and up into the endless sky.

Ahmed's heart raced as he marveled at the breathtaking view from above. He soared over deserts, crossed mighty rivers, and even glimpsed lush jungles. The Fantastic Flying Carpet took him to places he had only dreamed of.

One day, while flying high above a mystical forest, Ahmed noticed a group of magical creatures called Sparkling Sprites. They were having trouble reaching their sparkling fruit in the treetops. Ahmed, being kind-hearted, decided to help. He guided the carpet down, allowing the Sprites to pick their fruit. In return, they granted him a special sparkling gem that would light his way home.

With the sparkling gem in hand, Ahmed continued his adventures, knowing he could always find his way back. He explored countless lands, met fascinating people, and had thrilling adventures, all thanks to the Fantastic Flying Carpet.

Years later, Ahmed returned to Aladdinville, sharing tales of his incredible journeys. He decided to gift the carpet to a young adventurer who dreamt of seeing the world, just as he once had. As he watched the new traveler soar into the sky, Ahmed knew that the Fantastic Flying Carpet would continue to bring joy and wonder to those who dared to dream.

