

Name _____

The Flying Squirrels of Doom

Open Ended Questions Answers

1. Answers may vary, but some might speculate that the Flying Squirrels of Doom attacked Pleasantville for a variety of reasons, such as wanting to claim the town's resources or simply causing chaos. The townspeople responded with a mix of panic and determination to protect their town.
2. Timmy Jenkins' idea demonstrated creativity and resourcefulness because he thought of an unconventional solution to the problem and was willing to try something unusual to repel the squirrels.
3. Qualities that make a hero might include bravery, quick thinking, and the ability to come up with solutions in challenging situations. Timmy Jenkins was considered a hero because he came up with the plan to repel the squirrels and saved the town from their attacks.
4. If I were a resident of Pleasantville, I might contribute by helping to set up the trampolines, organizing the townspeople, or even coming up with backup plans in case the trampolines didn't work as expected. Teamwork and creative problem-solving would be crucial in such a situation.

