

Name _____

George Washington's Friendship with Founding Fathers

Short Answer Key

1. Thomas Jefferson served as Secretary of State during George Washington's presidency from 1790 to 1793.
2. Benjamin Franklin secured vital assistance, including troops and financial aid, from France during the American Revolution.
3. George Washington's leadership during his presidency contributed to the establishment of the federal government by creating the first Cabinet positions and ratifying the Bill of Rights.
4. George Washington and Thomas Jefferson both supported religious freedom and the separation of church and state, among other principles.
5. George Washington sought Benjamin Franklin's guidance and respected his wisdom beyond the American Revolution.

