

Name _____

Generational Conflict

Short Answer Key

1. Grandma Millie believed in the importance of preserving family traditions and recreating cherished moments from her own childhood.
2. The grandchildren found the potato sack race outdated and boring because they were more accustomed to modern activities and technology.
3. Switching to video game competitions changed the atmosphere, and it was significant because it allowed the family to bond and have fun in a way that blended tradition with modernity.
4. By the end of the story, the Johnsons learned the importance of appreciating each other's values and expectations and finding a balance between tradition and modernity.
5. The family reunion became unforgettable because the Johnsons found a way to combine their different preferences and enjoy quality time together as a family.

