The Life Cycle of a Giraffe

Short Answer Key

1. Baby giraffes drink their mother's milk.
2. Young giraffes stay close to their mothers for protection and nourishment.
3. Giraffes help the environment by eating leaves from tall trees, which allows sunlight to reach plants below.
4. Female giraffes can have calves around the age of four years.
5. Male giraffes leave the group to form smaller groups or live alone.
