Goldfish: Daily Habits and Behaviors

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Goldfish are happier in groups because they feel safer and can interact with other fish, which keeps them active and social.
2. A perfect tank would include clean water, plenty of space, plants for nibbling, decorations to explore, and maybe a few other goldfish for company.
3. If the water is too cold or dirty, a goldfish might become less active or stop swimming, which can make them unhealthy over time.
4. You might see goldfish swimming alongside each other, signaling with their fins, or exploring their environment together.
