

Name _____

A Day in the Life of a Grasshopper

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Grasshoppers' daytime activities, like finding food and resting in the shade, help them stay nourished and avoid overheating.
2. Grasshoppers may be solitary because they don't rely on group cooperation like ants or bees. They can survive well on their own.
3. Grasshoppers in swarms face challenges like running out of food quickly or becoming easier targets for predators.
4. As a grasshopper, I would spend my day hopping through a sunny field, eating fresh grass, and resting in shady spots to stay cool.
