Becoming a Super Friend: The Art of Being a Great Pal

Short Answer Key

1. Trustworthiness is important because it forms the foundation of trust in a friendship. A good friend can be relied upon, keeps promises, and is honest.
2. Answers will vary, but students should provide an example of a situation where they actively listened to a friend, how it improved communication, and the impact on the friendship.
3. Open and honest communication helps resolve conflicts in a friendship by allowing friends to express their concerns, feelings, and perspectives, leading to understanding and resolution.
4. Answers will vary. Students should describe a situation where they faced a misunderstanding with a friend, how they resolved it, and the lessons learned.
5. Steps to address jealousy may include identifying the source of jealousy, discussing your feelings with your friend, and working together to address any concerns or insecurities.
