What Happens to the Oceans as Earth Gets Warmer?

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. I might notice warmer water, fewer fish around me, or stronger storms.
2. Because oceans affect weather, food, and even the air we breathe.
3. Fish and other animals that live in coral reefs would lose their homes. It could hurt the whole ocean food chain.
4. They could have beach cleanups, plant trees, or start a school campaign to save energy.
