

Name _____

Growing Up: A Sonnet of Discovery

Short Answer Key

1. The poem describes growing up as a process that brings both joy and tears, as well as revelations about oneself and the world.
2. Friendships in the poem reveal true aspects of our personality and play a significant role in our journey of growing up.
3. Dreams in the poem are portrayed as something that can take us to great heights, emphasizing their importance in one's life journey.
4. The poem suggests that challenges are a part of growing up but also emphasizes the value of these challenges in helping us discover who we are.
5. "Treasures of the heart" likely refers to valuable and meaningful experiences and emotions that come with growing up.

