

Name _____

Guardians of Our Rights: How International Treaties Protect Individuals

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is an international human rights treaty?
 - a) A superhero
 - b) A set of rules agreed upon by countries to protect individual rights
 - c) A type of game played by countries
 - d) A form of entertainment

2. What is the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR)?
 - a) A document adopted by the United Nations in 1948 that outlines the protection of human rights
 - b) A superhero comic book
 - c) A list of rules for playing games
 - d) A novel about human rights

3. Why do countries need to change their laws and regulations when they ratify human rights treaties?
 - a) Because it's a tradition
 - b) To ensure they are following the treaty's provisions and protecting individual rights
 - c) To confuse their citizens
 - d) Because they want to win a contest

4. What is one way in which international human rights treaties protect vulnerable groups?
 - a) By ignoring them
 - b) By providing a platform for them to seek help and outlining how they should be treated and protected under the law
 - c) By making them invisible
 - d) By excluding them from the treaties

5. What does accountability mean in the context of human rights treaties?
 - a) Holding countries responsible for violating human rights
 - b) Keeping treaties secret
 - c) Punishing individuals for seeking help
 - d) Ignoring human rights violations

