Where Do Guppies Live?

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Guppies live in groups for protection from predators and to make it easier to find food.
2. If guppies couldn't adapt to an environment, they might not survive or reproduce.
3. Tropical climates provide guppies with warm water and plenty of plants for shelter and food.
4. A perfect guppy habitat in an aquarium would have clean water, plants, a proper temperature, and plenty of space to swim.
