Guppy Life: A Day in the Life of a Tiny Fish

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Guppies are happier with clean water and space because it allows them to swim freely, stay healthy, and mimic their natural habitat.
2. Living in a group helps guppies survive by providing protection from predators and making it easier to find food.
3. In an aquarium, you might notice guppies chasing each other, swimming in patterns, exploring plants, and nibbling at food.
4. Guppies' habits show us how working together and socializing can help us stay safe, find resources, and build strong bonds.
