Healing Harmony

In the realm of health and well-being,
Where diagnoses and treatments we're seeing,
A journey through the body's maze,
To heal and thrive in countless ways.
From common colds to broken bones,
Medical terms, a language known,
A stethoscope's gentle, reassuring beat,
A heartbeat strong, a steady feat.
Viruses lurking, flu's attack,
The immune system fights back,
With antibodies, white blood cells,
Guarding health in these body shells.
A surgeon's skill with scalpel's grace,
Mending bones in their rightful place,
Orthopedic care, a path to mend,
From fractures to a healthy trend.
In radiology's radiant glow,
X-rays, MRIs, secrets to show,
A glimpse inside, a healing start,
To mend the body, mind, and heart.
Pediatric wards with giggles near,

Doctors calming every fear,
A nurturing touch, a healing song,
In their care, we all belong.
The heart's chambers, valves that close,
Cardiologists in surgical throes,
A rhythm steady, pumping life,
In cardiac care, we find no strife.
Oncologists with strength and grace,
In the battle against cancer's face,
Chemotherapy, radiation's fight,
To bring us closer to the light.
Through all these terms and healing ways,
In this medical dance, we find our praise,
For doctors, nurses, and staff's embrace,
In health's journey, we find our grace.
