

Name _____

The Case of the Vanishing Homework

Short Answer Key

1. Lily initially reacted with surprise and confusion when she discovered her missing math homework.
2. Clues pointing to the art room included eraser crumbs and half-eaten science experiments.
3. Emily confessed to the homework heist because she had a fear of math and science. The school responded by providing her with extra help and support.
4. The students of Crestwood Middle School learned the importance of empathy and understanding in solving problems and helping their fellow students.
5. Lily became known as a hero in Crestwood Middle School for her detective skills and her ability to bring kindness and support to the school community.

