

Name _____

How Horses Communicate

Short Answer Key

1. Horses use sounds like neighs and nickers to communicate with each other.
2. Forward ears indicate curiosity or attention.
3. The Jacobson's organ helps horses detect scents.
4. Horses raise their heads and flare their nostrils when they feel threatened.
5. A relaxed tail indicates calmness.

