

Name _____

Do Horses Form Relationships with Other Species?

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is an example of mutualism involving a horse?
 - a) A cattle egret eating insects off a horse
 - b) A tick feeding on the horse
 - c) A horse grazing alone
 - d) A horse drinking water

2. What does commensalism mean?
 - a) Both animals help each other
 - b) One animal benefits while the other is not affected
 - c) One animal harms the other
 - d) Both animals get hurt

3. What type of relationship occurs when a tick feeds on a horse?
 - a) Mutualism
 - b) Commensalism
 - c) Parasitism
 - d) Cooperation

4. How can horses benefit from bonding with other animals?
 - a) They gain companionship and reduce stress
 - b) They feel more stressed
 - c) They stop eating
 - d) They become aggressive

5. Why do some birds follow horses?
 - a) To scare the horse
 - b) To protect the horse
 - c) To sing to the horse
 - d) To eat bugs stirred up as the horse walks

