Huck's Dilemma

Short Answer Key

1. Huck struggles because society has told him that helping Jim is wrong, but his conscience tells him otherwise.
2. Huck learns that Jim is kind, loyal, and loves his family, just like anyone else.
3. Ripping up the letter shows that Huck chooses his own morals over what society tells him is right.
4. Huck's conscience tells him that Jim deserves freedom and that kindness is more important than rules.
5. It shows that sometimes society's rules can be unfair and that thinking for yourself is important.
