In-Law Intrigue

Short Answer Key

1. Sarah and John faced challenges such as unsolicited advice, interference in their daily lives, and frequent visits from their in-laws.
2. Sarah and John had an open and honest conversation with their in-laws, explaining the need for space to establish their own routines and make their own mistakes as a married couple. Over time, their in-laws realized the importance of respecting their boundaries, and the interference decreased.
