

Name _____

Industrial Marvels

Short Answer Questions

1. Describe the primary function of refineries and the types of products they produce.
2. Why is site preparation an important step in the construction of industrial buildings, and what does it involve?
3. Provide examples of the types of machinery and equipment commonly installed in industrial buildings, and explain their significance.
4. Explain the role of utility systems in industrial buildings and why they are crucial for day-to-day operations.
5. How does the quality control process ensure the safety and functionality of industrial buildings during and after construction?

