

Name _____

Deciphering Directions: Why Following Instructions Varies Among Kids

Open-Ended Response Questions

1. Think of a personal experience where you found it difficult to follow directions. Explain the situation, the challenges you faced, and how you eventually managed to complete the task. What did you learn from this experience?
2. Imagine you are a teacher, and you have a student who often struggles to follow directions. Describe some classroom strategies you would implement to support this student and help them succeed.
3. Reflect on a famous artist who had a unique learning style or faced challenges but still achieved greatness. Share details about their life, their learning journey, and how they overcame obstacles to create their art.
4. Discuss the importance of patience and understanding when interacting with a child who finds it harder to follow directions. How can empathy and support positively impact their learning experience?

