

Name _____

Jim's Truth

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What stereotype about enslaved people does Jim's character challenge?
 - a) That they are not intelligent or caring
 - b) That they always trick people
 - c) That they never work hard
 - d) That they enjoy being enslaved

2. What does Jim do that shows he is a father figure to Huck?
 - a) He teaches Huck to read
 - b) He ignores Huck when he is scared
 - c) He tells Huck to turn him in
 - d) He watches over Huck and protects him

3. How does Huck's view of Jim change throughout the story?
 - a) He stops trusting Jim
 - b) He begins to see Jim as an equal and a friend
 - c) He becomes afraid of Jim
 - d) He never changes his opinion about Jim

4. Why does Huck feel guilty after playing a trick on Jim?
 - a) Because Jim is angry at him
 - b) Because Jim cries and says he was very worried
 - c) Because Tom Sawyer tells him to apologize
 - d) Because he gets caught

5. What lesson does Mark Twain teach through Jim's character?
 - a) That enslaved people were only important in history
 - b) That following society's rules is always the right thing to do
 - c) That kindness and humanity are more important than race or status
 - d) That people should never go on adventures

