

Name _____

The Life Cycle of a Ladybug

Short Answer Key

1. Female ladybugs lay their eggs on the underside of leaves, near a food source like aphids.
2. Ladybug larvae eat aphids and other small insects.
3. The pupa stage lasts about one week.
4. Ladybug eggs are yellow.
5. Complete metamorphosis is the process where an insect goes through four stages: egg, larva, pupa, and adult.

