

Name _____

The Secret Language of Dreams

Open-Ended Response Questions

1. Have you ever had a dream that felt like it revealed something important about yourself or your feelings? If so, can you describe the dream and what it made you realize?
2. What do you think the poet means by calling dreams the "canvas on which our deepest desires and fears are painted"? Can you give an example from your own experiences or imagination?
3. How do you personally view and interpret your dreams? Do you think they have significance in your life, or do you consider them random images and stories?
4. Can you share a dream you've had that was particularly memorable or had a strong emotional impact on you? What made that dream special or significant to you?

