The Light of Understanding

In the shadows of uncertainty, I once stood,
In a world where questions outnumbered what was understood,
But on a day when the sky was clear and bright,
A moment of epiphany, like a beacon of light.
I pondered life's mysteries, the "whys" and "hows,"
Doubts and confusion like heavy clouds,
But a single realization, so clear and true,
Transformed my perspective, like morning's dew.
I saw that life's journey, a winding stream,
Held lessons and wonders, more than it may seem,
Each step, each stumble, a part of the plan,
A path to understanding, for every woman and man.
The world's complexity, its beauty and grace,
Unfolded before me in that newfound space,
I embraced the unknown, the mysteries untold,
With a heart full of wonder, no longer controlled.
The epiphany that dawned, like a rising sun,
Brought clarity and purpose to everyone,
In the light of understanding, I found my way,
With a new perspective, I'd greet each day.
