

Name _____

The Brave Little Tailor

Once upon a time, in a small village, there lived a humble tailor known as the Brave Little Tailor. Though he was small in stature, he possessed a clever mind and a brave heart. One day, while he was working in his shop, a swarm of flies invaded his workspace. Annoyed and frustrated, he managed to swat them away, but he boasted that he had killed seven of them with one blow.

News of the Brave Little Tailor's feat spread quickly, and the townsfolk misunderstood his words, thinking that he had defeated seven giants. The tailor decided to let them believe the false story, and his reputation as a giant slayer grew. Soon, his fame reached the ears of the king, who summoned him to the palace.

The king had a problem he hoped the Brave Little Tailor could solve. Two giants had been causing chaos in the kingdom, and the king offered the tailor a reward if he could rid the land of these troublesome creatures. The tailor agreed to help and set off to face the giants.

When he encountered the first giant, the tailor used his wit to outsmart the enormous foe. He challenged the giant to a tree-pulling contest, convincing him that it was a test of strength. As the giant attempted to uproot a tree, the tailor secretly tied himself to it. When the giant managed to uproot the tree, he believed the tailor had performed the feat and fled in fear.

Next, the tailor encountered the second giant. Using his cleverness once again, he proposed a competition to see who could jump higher. As the giant jumped with all his might, the tailor cleverly hid in a tree. The giant's jump fell short, and he fled, believing the tailor was an extraordinary jumper.

The Brave Little Tailor returned to the palace victorious, having rid the kingdom of the giants. He received a grand reward, and his reputation as a hero continued to grow. The tailor's cleverness and quick thinking had not only protected the kingdom but had also ensured his place in history as the Brave Little Tailor.