Where Does a Panda Live?

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Pandas are considered a symbol of conservation because saving them requires protecting their habitats, which helps other animals too.
2. Cutting down forests affects other animals by destroying their homes and food sources, just like it does for pandas.
3. If bamboo forests disappeared, pandas would have no food and could not survive. Other animals that depend on bamboo would also be affected.
4. Protecting pandas and their habitats is important because it helps keep nature balanced and protects other animals in their ecosystem.
