What Does an Otter Look Like?

Short Answer Key

1. Dark brown and light tan.
2. The smallest is the Asian small-clawed otter, and the largest is the giant otter.
3. Their webbed feet act like paddles, and their tails help them steer and move faster in the water.
4. Sea otters use rocks to crack open shellfish, which they store in the loose skin under their armpits.
5. Their fur keeps them warm in cold water and prevents their skin from getting wet.
