What Does a Rabbit Look Like?

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. A rabbit's strong legs help it hop away from predators, its ears help it hear danger, and its fur helps it blend into its surroundings.
2. People find rabbits fascinating because of their soft fur, cute faces, and gentle personalities.
3. Wild rabbits live outdoors and avoid predators, while pet rabbits are cared for by humans and have safe homes. Both types have similar features like long ears and strong legs.
4. I would describe a rabbit as a small, soft animal with long ears, a fluffy tail, and big eyes. I would also mention how it hops and twitches its nose.
