

Name _____

The Forgotten Love Letters

Short Answer Key

1. Possible Answer: Emma's curiosity and the allure of adventure compelled her to explore the attic.
2. Possible Answer: The first love letter was dated June 17, 1942, and addressed to "My Dearest Eleanor." It contained heartfelt expressions of love and longing from "J.R."
3. Possible Answer: Emma confirmed their identities by meeting Eleanor, who was mentioned in the letters, and verifying that "J.R." was her beloved husband, James.
4. Possible Answer: During her travels, Emma discovered the places her family had visited, met distant relatives, and learned about her family's history and heritage.
5. Possible Answer: Emma learned that the attic held a legacy of love, resilience, and the enduring human spirit. She realized that family stories continue to shape the present and inspire future adventures.

