

Name _____

The Great Mascot Madness

Short Answer Key

1. The Brookside Space Sloths' mascot concept involved sloths dressed as astronauts floating amidst the stars. During their audition, they created the illusion of space travel by floating on strings and interacting with stars and planets, showcasing the school's spirit of adventure.
2. The Brookside Disco Ducks' audition was unique because they waddled onto the stage in retro disco outfits and performed energetic dance moves to classic disco tunes. They engaged the audience by grooving to the music, and their infectious enthusiasm had the audience clapping and tapping their feet.
3. (This answer will vary depending on personal preference.) For example, someone might find the Brookside Bubblegum Bats the most entertaining due to their mesmerizing bubble-blowing performance, while another person might prefer the Brookside Disco Ducks for their lively dance routine.
4. The audience reacted with laughter, applause, and enthusiasm during the auditions. Based on the auditions, it's likely that the school's new mascot will be chosen for its entertainment value and ability to engage the school community.
5. (This answer will vary depending on personal creativity.) For example, a student might submit the "Brookside Mystery Detectives" as a mascot idea, with students dressed as detectives solving comical mysteries during the audition. They would present it with humor and interactive detective skits.
