

Name _____

Building Character: Why Character Education Matters

Short Answer Key

1. Example answers may include: honesty, respect, responsibility, empathy, perseverance, etc.
2. Character education equips students with resilience, problem-solving skills, and the ability to make informed decisions, helping them face life's challenges.
3. Empathy is essential in character education as it helps individuals understand and share the feelings of others, fostering kindness and compassion.
4. Responsibility is a character trait that teaches individuals to be accountable for their actions, which is crucial for ethical decision-making and personal growth.
5. Character education can create a more inclusive and respectful school environment by teaching students to treat others with respect and empathy, reducing conflicts and promoting positive social behavior.

