

Name _____

The Memorable Music Festival

Short Answer Questions Answers

1. The first band that performed at the festival was "The Cluckin' Pickers," a bluegrass quartet made up of chickens.
2. "The Invisible Orchestra" was unique because they were completely invisible, but their lead singer, Invisi-Bob, had an incredible voice.
3. One animal group that performed at the festival apart from the chickens, squirrels, and penguins was not mentioned in the story.
4. The story doesn't explicitly state the overall atmosphere, but it can be inferred that it was filled with excitement and entertainment.
5. The most memorable aspect of the festival according to the story was the unique and unexpected performances by various bands and animal groups.

