

Name _____

Messy Redemption

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What does the Cat do to redeem himself at the end of the story?
 - a) He apologizes to the children and the Fish.
 - b) He asks Thing 1 and Thing 2 to help clean up.
 - c) He tells the children's mother what happened.
 - d) He uses a machine to erase all the mess he made.

2. How does the Fish react to the Cat's mess?
 - a) The Fish encourages the Cat to keep playing.
 - b) The Fish warns the children about the consequences.
 - c) The Fish helps the Cat create even more chaos.
 - d) The Fish asks the mother for help.

3. What is unusual about the way the Cat redeems himself?
 - a) He admits his mistakes and faces punishment.
 - b) He cleans up everything so that no one knows what happened.
 - c) He refuses to take responsibility for the mess.
 - d) He leaves the house without fixing anything.

4. What lesson does the story suggest about making mistakes?
 - a) If a mistake is fixed completely, it is as if it never happened.
 - b) People should always ignore the consequences of their actions.
 - c) Fun is more important than cleaning up.
 - d) It is better to leave a mess than try to fix it.

5. How would the story be different if the Cat had not cleaned up?
 - a) The children would have been relieved.
 - b) The mother would have been happy with the mess.
 - c) The children would have faced consequences for allowing the chaos.
 - d) The Fish would have invited the Cat to return.

