

Name _____

How Ocean Currents and El Niño Influence Weather Around the World

Short Answer Key

1. They move warm and cold water around the world, which affects temperature and weather patterns.
2. It heats the air and makes it rise, which can create clouds and storms.
3. It cools the air, which can lead to dry or calm weather.
4. In the Pacific Ocean near South America.
5. Using satellites, buoys, and special ships to measure ocean temperatures and weather.

