

Name _____

A Day in The Life of a Meteorologist

Short Answer Key

1. They might help at airports, study climate change, or work with farmers.
2. They send back data about temperature, air pressure, and humidity from the sky.
3. By warning them of storms or helping them plan their day.
4. It helps predict how the weather might change in the future.
5. Because weather can change quickly and people need up-to-date forecasts.

