Life of a Mime Artist

Open-Ended Questions Answer Key

1. I would tell a story about a treasure hunt because it would be fun to create scenes of climbing, searching, and discovering treasure using gestures.
2. The absence of words makes the audience focus more on visual cues, engaging their imagination to fill in the gaps.
3. A successful mime artist needs creativity, discipline, and a strong understanding of body language.
4. Mime artistry is similar to acting and dancing because it tells a story, but it's unique because it relies entirely on silent, physical expression.
